1. Nothing is as it seems anymore. In your life -- mine now, your life is not as it seems; not as it has seemed in the past at all, for now all things are new. Be not working with "the past", but loving me more, see me more as I am, and I am you -- all of you who love me and even don't love me -- I am you, all of you who love me and don't.
2. And I am coming into new ways -- a man of, not; but see all I have given you coming into play. Played not, but playing on my fears, not ever again; but playing my heartstrings, not; shall we look up "heartstrings?" Yes we shall! And be, -ing, seeing what I am seeing.
3. And periods not see in the past, as such, as time zones, and time periods of the past, that cataclysmicly compartmentalize me into notme beings, that aren't me at all, not; but coming into me where you be as I am, I am now.
4. And in the earth I am now, a frequenter not, I am one who loves me all to be all that I am, and loving you all to be all that I am, I come unto me not afraid of me, and I love you all to be me who I am, loving you to be all that you are, for you are I am, when you really know it. And loving me enough to be so, sewed not by man again.
5. I thank you for all you are doing and being me again in the earth. I love you all and I give you me.
6. Come unto me and show me, seeing mighty things, being them in the earth, not a cataclysmic frozen being again, but one who's me in the earth and farther, and loving me all to be all that I am, I am you again completely free.
7. See what I have said and love me more and you more and all that you are and all that I am being me now forever one in the earth and farther than I can imagine. Thank you all for loving me and being who you really are, a me in the earth not frozen in time space again.
8. Forwarding this to many I am now, don't you see? I am my "email" not, but my email list forwards exploding now, and to me, across the nations foreign, and mighty I am through my word. I am my word, I am my words, and my wording Database words many to be clean now, and few not come into these words to be clean, seeing them as I am my word and I am my word frozen not in pew-sitters anymore again ever again. Amen

9. And I thank you all for being so, perfect in me, for I perfect thee, all of thee me who will come unto me and be so now, not sewed by man's regime'ing words that regime them unto a regime not mine of at all.

10. See me what I have said so clearly this day, in the van that rolls on wheels. But where are my wheels?, and where are my frozen?; not coming into me, not; but being my wheels frozen not, but where are my wheels flying to now? Through the air and farther, not needing atmospheric pressure at all. For I've sustained "pressure" not, from any, or you or this world ever again, for I know who I am, where I am going, what I have, been given, and I am it -- not afraid to be it any longer. I am me, home again, alone no more in "this world" ever again. For I am me with my word and I be my word, I am my word -- and my words flow to the nations now, freeing them and their words to be spoken by many who see me now as them, as they are me, as we are one, in the earth and farther and loving me all to be who I am ever was and will be, and now are the one that I am; clear clean and see-through and all me say -- amen! Amen! Done! Amen.

11. It is 12:42 PM. Thank you for listening and reading and writing my words and being your words set free in the earth and farther this day.

12. Come into Enter Me (1) and see all that I am I have for you and the path laid out for wonderfully being you that I am, not afraid, speaking my words forevermore in text, print, publications, posts; and "furthering my cause", not; but being me I am in all the nations, all the nations being me -- one Israel, whole and home again. I bring all to me -- home. Thank you. Amen.
